

City Ornithology

The following birds have been observed in the Friends' Western Burial Ground, Sixteenth and Race streets, Philadelphia, from the Friends' Library windows, by Mary S. Allen :

AUTUMN MIGRATION, 1904.

Towhee, October 13, 1904.

Hermit Thrush, three on October 14, and six on October 15, 1904.

White-throated Sparrow, October 14 and 15, 1904.

Robin, three seen during autumn, last for the year November 10, 1904.

SPRING MIGRATION, 1905.

Bluebird, reported March 7.

Robin, first seen March 16, next March 23 and throughout season.

Song Sparrow, reported March 16, seen March 20 and 23.

Flicker, March 20.

Hermit Thrush, a pair April 26, May 2 and 3.

Towhee, a pair April 26, May 3 and 12.

White-throated Sparrow, April 26 and May 1.

Brown Thrasher, April 29, May 2, 3, 6 to 12.

Wood Thrush, May 5, singing from 4:30 to 6 p. m.

Catbird, May 6 to 12.

Ovenbird, May 6, 11 and 13.

Veery, May 11.

Baltimore Oriole, May 12, singing.

Maryland Yellow Throat, a pair May 12 and 13 singing.

Worm-eating Warbler, May 12.