Category: Birds

Photos of birds. Judges will prefer photos of live, wild birds that are free and unrestrained.

Category: Fauna

Photos of animals that are not birds. Photos of free and unrestrained living, wild animals will be favored by the judges.

Category: Flora

Photos of plants (including but not limited to flowers), fungi, algae and other life forms that are not animals. Flora photographed in its native habitat will be preferred by the judges. Photographs of seeds, spores, pinecones and other propagules qualify for this category.

Category: Scenery

Photos in this category will capture elements of the great outdoors and not rely upon their subject matter being alive. ... Essentially, these are nonliving subjects that might be encountered while birding, hiking or on an outing for outdoor photography.

Category: Birders

Photographs of birders and/or nature photographers.
