As in past years, this fund raising effort is closely tied to the DVOC's World Series of Birding Team's performance on Saturday May 9, 2009

The Nikon / DVOC Lagerhead Shrikes team members are experts in the game of "hit and run" birding. Eight times in the twenty-five years of New Jersey Audubon's World Series of Birding, a DVOC team has won the grand prize - the Urner Stone Cup (highest total species identified). Including three of the last five years!

This year we are excited to support the WILLISTOWN CONSERVATION TRUST BIRD BANDING PROJECT AT RUSHTON PRESERVE, CHESTER COUNTY, PA.

The 190-acre woodland preserve has been identified as one of the most critical sites for bird conservation in Audubon's Upper Ridley/Crum Important Bird Area. The Trust will augment ongoing bird monitoring with this new banding project, providing valuable data to the ornithological community, and also bringing a unique educational opportunity to the public. WCT is taking a unique approach, showcasing the banding activity to the community, demonstrating first-hand how birds are affected by land management practices, restoration and conservation efforts. Over 6,000 acres are now preserved through the 25-year efforts of the Willistown Conservation Trust, which revolve around land protection, stewardship and community outreach and education.

The team does their part; now it is YOUR turn. In order to support this worthy conservation project, we need everyone's support in the form of pledges and contributions. Please make a pledge or a direct contribution today. And give a copy of this form to a friend!
